SATURDAY, JANUARY 15.

GOVERNOR TYLER of Virginia, has added 11 brand new colonels to his staff. As if Virginia had not enough colonels already.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY is not only a statesman, but also a very good politician, says Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, and he ought to know.

FAKE political and territorial news, sent from territorial points to papers outside of New Mexico, is productive of nothing but injury to the territory and its advancement.

It is estimated by those in position to judge, and from official sources, that the Hillsboro mining camp in Sierra county produced, during the year 1897, nearly $400,000 worth of gold bullion. Not a bad showing that for one district.

A KANSAS man, an officer in the Cuban army, has returned to this country and claims to have taken part in 22 battles. Judging from the number of battles engaged in by this gallant man, Cuban battles seem to be rather harmless affairs.

It is time that our Republican friends all over this territory were preparing for the coming fray. The Republican party should elect the next delegate to congress and a majority of the Thirty-third assembly. Work toward that greatly to be desired end cannot commence any too soon.

GENTLEMEN, you who are opposed to Judge McFie's confirmation, do not flatter yourselves with futile hopes and idle dreams. The confirmation of the nomination of Judge McFie as associate justice of the Territorial Supreme court will be had and that very shortly.

The people of New Mexico are gratified at the re-appointment and confirmation of the five judges, composing the U. S. court of private land claims. They are excellent men for the position named and President McKinley did well in their reappointment.

A GEORGIA woman, disappointed in securing office, endeavored to commit suicide. Women must learn, if they would become good and successful politicians, how to wait; it is a long lane that has no turn, is true of a good many phases of life, the political especially.

The art of tax dodging seems to be practiced with great success and much equanimity in New Mexico. But a stop must be put to this practice, no less volens. Necessity will compel the territory and the counties to enforce the tax laws fully and equitably.

If the presiding judge of the Fourth judicial district, in convening the next grand jury in Union county, were to charge that jury to strictly and impartially investigate the doings of the board of county commissioners of Union county in connection with tax matters, he would perform an important public service.

THERE seems to be a good deal of sound sense in the following from the Indianapolis Journal: "With $161,000,000 of gold in the treasury, its officials pay it out freely, while the public prefers the notes which are as good. But for the political agitation in behalf of the silver mine owners, largely foreigners and all rich, this condition would continue undisturbed."

A BEST sugar factory located in this city would greatly aid every business in town, increase our population, give employment to a great many persons and would bring about great and lasting prosperity for Santa Fe. With proper aid on the part of the property owners of this city, it is believed that this much desired result can be brought about within the coming two years.

SENATOR DAVIS has also introduced a bill providing for the disapproval of the law recently passed in this territory compelling fire insurance companies to make a deposit of bonds or real estate to the amount of $10,000 with the treasurer of the territory as a prerequisite to being entitled to do business in New Mexico. Senator Davis and Mr. Sperry seem to be fond of insurance companies. Rather strange taste that.

The house committee on territories is absolutely right, when it says in its favorable report on Delegate Fergusson's bill for the permanent location of the capital in this city, that a great majority of the people of the territory desire the capital of New Mexico located here. This is the place and now is the time to locate it and it is to be hoped, that the bill will become law and that within the shortest space of time possible.

MR. W. JENNINGS BRYAN goes merrily on talking about the "courageous and glorious fight we made last year." The question arises what sort of a fight did he make last year anyway? The only fight the people of this country know of he made during 1897, was his fight for big receipts at lectures he delivered and big fees for appearing at country fairs.

As a proper protective measure against the action of the great smelter and mill combine, in arbitrarily and unreasonably advancing treatment charges on all classes of ore, the mine operators of Cripple Creek have definitely decided to erect and operate a mammoth chlorination plant at Colorado City. Doubtless this drastic measure will soon teach the greedy smelter and mill people the folly of engaging the hold-up business without first ascertaining whether the other fellow is possessed of defensive weapons.

In a recent speech, delivered before the New England society at a dinner given in New York, Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, one of the orators of the country, thus describes yellow and sensational journalism and it must be admitted the picture is very true of life: "Whenever there is a cause to misrepresent, a hate to be fanned, a slander to utter, a reputation to besmirch, it exhales its foul breath. It knows no party, no honor and no virtue. It struts only strife and hatred and appeals only to the low and the base. It calls itself journalism, but its name is Pandemonium and its color is yellow."

New Mexico's Golden Era.

Active, systematic, continuous and productive development work is in progress on the great bodies of gold bearing quartz at Amizett, La Belle, Red River, Elizabethtown, Cochiti, Dolores, Golden, San Pedro, Hillsboro, Pinos Altos, Mogollon, White Oaks and numerous other promising mining districts in New Mexico, and the results of this diligent work are certain to add immensely to the future gold output of this territory. In several of the districts named the surface indications of yellow riches are much more marked and inviting than were the grass-root indications at Cripple Creek, and since most of the land grant clouds have been dissipated by the courts and perfect titles can be secured, capital is eagerly seeking investment in the mines of the territory and there are substantial reasons for confidence that among the fruits thereof will be the early disclosure of several rivals of the great Colorado gold camp in New Mexico. All that is required to accomplish this is money for development purposes and the erection of adequate reduction plants, and this desideratum is being rapidly and plentifully provided by men possessing the requisite nerve, energy, experience and sagacity to employ it to the best possible advantage. During the past year the New Mexican has published columns of cheering details concerning operations in the numerous mining districts of this territory and hence need not here enter into a specific statement of the reasons why it has unbounded faith that a golden era is about to dawn upon the magnificent territorial empire known on the map as New Mexico.

An Example to be Followed.

GOVERNOR M. H. McCOMB is making an earnest and strong attempt to bring about a better state of affairs in the assessment of taxable property in Arizona and a better, more honest and more thorough collection of taxes. He has issued a call for a convention of assessors, collectors, boards of supervisors and members of the board of equalization to meet in Phoenix at an early date, will lay the matter before this convention and urge concerted action to enforce the tax laws by all officials charged by law with the assessment, equalization and collection of taxes.

This is what the governor means to bring to the attention and action of the convention:

The furtherance of economy in the management of territorial and county affairs, and the possibility of raising revenue from territorial industries now practically exempt from taxation. Arizona is generally considered primarily a mining region; yet her mines bear an almost inconsiderable portion of the burdens of government. The agriculturists, stockmen and railroads pay nearly all. The total assessment of the territory is $20,000,000. Yet one mine alone within Arizona, the United Verde at Jerome, is commercially rated as worth $30,000,000. It pays taxes in Yavapai county on about $200,000 in improvements and machinery. Other large mines, the main ones only considered, would bring the territorial wealth up to fully $150,000,000, could they be assessed. It is believed the only way to secure revenue from the mines is by a tax on the bullion output, for the value of ore in place could not be estimated.

To aid in the work to be done, the governor has asked that meetings be called for the same date in Phoenix of the Arizona Live Stock association and the Territorial Agricultural society. A special call has also been issued from the executive office asking for a general gathering in Phoenix, January 25, of the miners of Arizona for the purpose of forming a miners' association.

A Tempest in a Tea-pot Over the Location of the Third District Court.

The Hillsboro Advocate is urging the supposed necessity of the removal of the United States court to that town. Inasmuch as it requires a mighty rough 30 miles ride by stage after leaving the railroad at Lake Valley to reach the Sierra county capital the Advocate's suggestion is hardly practicable. Judge Parker will undoubtedly have the headquarters of the Third judicial district retained where it is most convenient of access and centrally located, and that is right here in Silver City.—Silver City Enterprise.

A Word to the Board of Equalization.

The board of equalization has been in session at Santa Fe this week, and it is hoped that it will be more fair in its treatment of various taxpayers in this section of the territory than it was last year. It is probable that the assessed valuation of cattle will go up a few notches this year.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Out Upon the Wretches.

The people of New Mexico howl for home rule, and as soon as a resident of the territory is appointed a pack of vultures immediately file charges against the appointee. If the president were to judge by the action of these cannibals, there is not in the whole territory a man fit to hold any position of honor or trust. Out upon such dirty wretches that this territory and their fellow citizens.—Silver City Enterprise.

Jumping on Delegate Fergusson.

Delegate Fergusson is not slow himself when it comes to bidding for votes in future campaigns. The bill for the permanent location of the capital at Santa Fe is a valuable bid for the vote of Santa Fe county next fall. It is worth nothing to the people of Santa Fe county, because the capital is already assured to that city for many years to come. The appropriation for the rebuilding of the capitol voted by the last legislature, made the capitol a fixture. The people of the territory would not allow another appropriation to be made for the building of a capitol at another place. In the event of the territory being admitted to statehood, Mr. Fergusson's bill for the permanent location of the capitol would lose its force and the people of the state would locate the capitol just where they pleased. So much for that bid. But now to even matters up and make peace with his Bernalillo county constituents, he proposes to consolidate the government posts, to make one large military post at Albuquerque. Very kind and magnanimous toward Bernalillo county which gave a majority against him. But oh! how ungrateful to Grant county which gave such a generous majority for him. He would abandon Fort Bayard as well as Fort Wingate. This fort is a necessity on this southwestern frontier, as well as a benefit to business industries by reason of the money put in circulation by the soldiers. Perhaps Mr. Fergusson believes he has the vote of Grant county corralled and he can now use one of Grant county's business resources to bid for Bernalillo county votes. Perhaps?—Silver City Enterprise.

RIGHT IN HIS LINE.

Dasher, the Football Player, and His Pies For an Heirloom.

Dasher was a college football player who admitted without reserve that he was famous.

He was swift as a deer, quick as thought, strong as a giant.

The ground trembled beneath his tread, and foes turned pale at his very look.

No "line" could baffle his power of penetration, except any old line of the liad or the Anabasis.

He could pass the ball with marvelous celerity and precision. In fact, he could pass anything in the great college race except an "exam."

And yet, stupid as he was in his studies, he had a nimble wit and a cool, unwavering assurance that often served him well.

When he left college, he was wooed and won by the daughter of Peregrine P. Packingham, the Chicagoan who had, Midaslike, turned every porcelaine product he touched to gold. Mr. Packingham admitted calmly, "But that wasn't what I meant. I meant that my whole training was right in your line."

"Right in my line!" echoed the millionaire.

"That was the remark I made—right in your line," Dasher continued proudly.

"And I've never scored a failure either. We are two of a kind, sir, good running mates, a team."

"Right in my line, a team?" repeated the millionaire in a dazed manner. "You must be demented or crazy. Why, sir, prove—or—prove what you say, and the girl is yours."

"I accept the challenge," Dasher cried eagerly. "My training has been right in your line, sir; right in your line. You have won fortune impelling the pig toward the frying pan, haven't you?"

"Of course,"

"And I," shouted Dasher, drawing himself majestically to his full height, "I, sir, have won fame chasing the pigskin on the gridiron."

"Take her, my boy," cried the millionaire, "take her." We are fellow plutocrats. My monopoly is pork. Yours is nerve."—New York Sunday World.

New Inventions Wanted.

Duplicate heads—for the people who "lose their heads" at critical moments.

A stump puller—for people who suddenly become "rooted to the ground."

A brace—for the use of "weak-kneed" persons in the hour of danger.

An anchor—for holding people who are frequently "transported with delight."

A grindstone—for persons who "grind their teeth" in a moment of anger.

Insulators—for the use of prudish people who are frequently "shocked" by the language of their friends.

Thunder rods—for the benefit of persons who are "thunderstruck" when they receive unexpected news.—Chicago News.

An Easy Throw.

"If, as you say, the Chicago girl has such large feet, how is it she marries so readily?"

"Well, I fancy no man ever throws himself at her feet in vain."

At that the boarders were put in rage and confusion. There was such laughter and confusion, under cover of which latter the landlady hurriedly passed a few things a second time.—Detroit Journal.

Coughs and colds need not be endured; they can be cured, and that quickly.

Many mixtures are temporary in effect, but Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a permanent remedy.

The oil feeds the blood and warms the body; the hypophosphites tone up the nerves; the glycerine soothes the inflamed throat and lungs.

The combination cures. This may prevent serious lung troubles.

Look Out For Cancer!

Few people are born entirely free from blood taint. This is often very slight or remote, and sometimes may not develop at all in one generation, but breaks out in a serious disease later.

Cancer, the most dreadful of all diseases, is often the result of some blood taint inherited from generations back. It often appears as a mere mole or insignificant pimple, which later develops into an alarming condition. No one knows, but that he may be subject to an inherited impurity in the blood, nor can he tell whether or not this may some day drop out in the form of destructive cancer. It is, therefore, important that any little sore or scratch, which does not readily heal, be given prompt attention, or a serious condition may result.

Mr. Robert Summey, of Ocala, Fla., was the victim of a malignant cancer, which first appeared in the manner above described. He writes:

"At first I paid no attention to the little blotches on my face, thinking they would soon pass away. Before long, however, they became sore, and soon began to enlarge. I tried ordinary local remedies, but they had no effect, and I then consulted a physician. When he told me I had cancer, I became alarmed and hastened to obtain treatment for I knew how dangerous cancer was.

"I received the best medical attention, but the cancer continued to grow worse until the physicians finally said that I would have to have an operation performed, as that was the only hope for me. This I refused to submit to, as I knew cancer was a blood disease, and my common sense told me that it was folly to expect an operation to cure a blood disease."

"Knowing S. S. S. to be a good blood purifier, I decided to try it, and the first bottle produced an improvement. I continued the medicine, and in four months the last scab dropped off. Ten years have elapsed, and not a sign of the disease has returned."

The alarming increase in the number of deaths which occur as the result of a surgical operation is attracting general attention, and a strong sentiment against such methods of treatment is fast developing among the most intelligent classes. It seems that in almost every case where the doctors' treatment is unsuccessful, the learned physicians decide at once that an operation must be performed, and the keen blade of the surgeon is recklessly resorted to.

The many caustic plasters which are applied to remove cancers are more painful than death, and the danger of a surgical operation is as great as the disease itself. No plaster or surgical operation can cure cancer, because it is a blood disease; the destructive cancer cells are in the blood, and cannot be cut out, or removed by local treatment.

As the disease must be forced from the blood, it is only reasonable to rely upon a real blood remedy for a cure, one which goes direct to the cause of the trouble and removes it.

S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) is the only known cure for cancer and other obstinate and deep-seated blood diseases such as Scrofula, Eczema, Catarrh, Rheumatism and Contagious Blood Poison. It is and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain not a particle of mercury, potash or other mineral, which means so much to all who know the disastrous effects of these drugs.

Books on Cancer and Blood Diseases will be mailed free to all who address Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

184 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beet; 84.1 per cent purity.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not started until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1894, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.
